Notes to Financial Statements

For the Year Ended December 31, 2025

1. Purpose of the organization

Baseball New Brunswick Inc. was incorporated under the laws of the Province of New Brunswick as a non-profit corporation. Its main activities are to promote and encourage the playing of baseball in a wholesome and entertaining manner, to oversee the establishment of baseball leagues and teams, and to govern, control, and direct the playing of baseball by member leagues and teams.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

The accounting policies of the organization are in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations. Outlined below are those policies considered particularly significant.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less

Financial instruments and risk management

Initial measurement

Upon initial measurement, the Organization's financial assets and liabilities are measured at fair value, which, in the case of financial assets or financial liabilities that will be measured subsequently at amortized cost, is increased or decreased by the amount of the related financing fees and transaction costs. Transaction costs relating to financial assets and liabilities that will be measured subsequently at fair value are recognized in operations in the year they are incurred.

Subsequent measurement

At each reporting date, the Organization measures its financial assets and liabilities at amortized cost (including any impairment in the case of financial assets), except for guaranteed investment certificates which are measured at fair value.

With respect to financial assets measured at amortized cost, the Organization assesses whether there are any indications of impairment. When there is an indication of impairment, in the expected timing or amount of future cash flows from the financial asset, it will then recognize a reduction as an impairment loss in operations. The reversal of a previously recognized impairment loss on a financial asset measured at amortized cost is recognized in operations in the year the reversal occurs.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Revenue recognition

The Organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Programs revenue restricted for future period expenses are deferred and are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred using the percentage of completion method. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

The Organization's main credit risk relate to its trade accounts receivable since failure of the parties to fulfil their obligations could result in financial losses for the Organization. The Organization provides credit to its members in the normal course of operations.

Liquidity risk

The Organization's liquidity risk represents the risk that the Organization could encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with its financial liabilities. The Organization is exposed to this risk mainly in respect of its payables and accruals.
