

Chad Ghostkeeper

2024 Inductee - Athlete Category

Chad Ghostkeeper grew up in Prince George, BC. Playing in the Spruce City Men's Fastpitch League, he was known for his versatility as a pitcher and catcher. Chad is an iconic figure, setting the precedence for all that follow. At the 2005 Canadian Championships, he led the batters with an impressive batting average of .517. The following year he competed at the Canadian Championships with the Prince George Black Bears, where he hit five homeruns, recorded a .478 batting average, and was named as the All-Star Catcher. In 2006, he was deservedly declared as Softball BC's Male Athlete of Year. He became a member of the Vancouver Grey Sox Team in 2007, where they dominated and captured the gold medal at the Men's Canadian Championship.

Jumping ahead to 2022, he was named as Softball BC's Indigenous Athlete of the Year, contributing and helping organize the Canadian Native Championships in Prince George.
